

Services and Products

StoneX Financial (Canada) Inc. ("SFCI") provides only advised accounts for our retail and institutional clients.

Products

We offer the following investment products:

- Retail and institutional, full service commodity futures & futures options accounts

Your advisor can explain these investment products to you, as well as how they work, their risks and possible returns, and whether they are appropriate for you.

The account(s) you have and how they operate

SFCI offers its retail and institutional clients advisory accounts for commodity futures & futures options. You (or your authorized representative) direct(s) all trading and is (are) responsible for all trade decisions in your account.

Fees Applicable To Your Account

All fees are disclosed as below, as required by regulations. These fees will vary depending on the accounts and services you use.

We currently offer only commission-based accounts.

- Commission-Based Account

SFCI charges a commission for each trade made in your account, based on a flat dollar amount that is negotiated between the client and the advisor servicing the account, and is negotiated before the trade is executed in your account. The commission will be disclosed on your daily statement.

- Interest charges

If your account(s) is (are) in a debit position, we will deduct an interest charge from these account(s). The interest rates are available upon request.

- Foreign Exchange

Exchange rates are available upon request.

- Other Service Charges

To be confirmed

Minimum Account Fees

StoneX Financial (Canada) Inc. reserves the right to charge a minimum account fee. The account holder will be notified of the minimum asset level and the fee amount, no less than 60 days prior to the charging of the fee.

Miscellaneous Fees

Any miscellaneous fees for service provided by other institutions, such as for 3rd party trading platforms, will be charged through at cost. Details available upon request.
