ii. A discussion of the significant types of business activities and product lines engaged in by the Forex Dealer Member, and the approximate percentage the Forex Dealer Member's assets and capital used in each type of activity

GAIN Capital is a global provider of trading services and solutions, specializing in over-the-counter, or "OTC" markets. GAIN Capital services retail and institutional customers worldwide and primarily conducts business from its headquarters in Warren, New Jersey, as well as its Branch Office in New York City, New York. GAIN Capital has invested considerable resources since its inception in developing its proprietary trading platforms to provide its customers with advanced price discovery, trade execution and order management functions. GAIN Capital's customers can trade through web-based, downloadable and mobile trading platforms and have access to innovative trading tools to assist them with research and analysis, automated trading, and account management. As of June 30, 2026 GAIN Capital has committed 100% of its assets and capital to its retail foreign exchange offering. The Company allocates its capital in a manner generally consistent with its asset allocation.

iii. A discussion of the Forex Dealer Member's business on behalf of its customers, including types of customers, markets and currencies traded, international businesses, prime brokers and/or liquidity providers used, and the Forex Dealer Member's policies and procedures concerning the choice of bank depositories, custodians and counterparties to permitted transactions under CFTC Regulation 1.25;

GAIN Capital offers its Forex services to a wide array of account types including: individual, joint, corporate, IRA, Commodity Trading Advisor ("CTA"), and commodity funds. Our current client base is mainly comprised of retail self-directed customers; however, we have institutional and managed account offerings as well. GAIN Capital provides access to rolling spot forex products that includes 80 tradable currency pairs.

GAIN Capital utilizes banks and prime brokers as custodians and counterparties to client and firm assets and to act as liquidity providers. GAIN Capital has established Prime Broker relationships with JPMorgan Chase and UBS. In selecting a new bank/broker depository GAIN Capital undertakes a thorough review of the institution's capitalization, creditworthiness, operational reliability, and access to liquidity. Additionally, GAIN Capital will review credit ratings and outlooks as published by selected third part ratings agencies if available and undertake additional diligence regarding the institution's profitability, share price, and analyst recommendations. The depository review will also include the availability of deposit insurance and the extent of the regulation and supervision of the depository. As part of our counterparty risk mitigation measures, GAIN Capital seeks to diversify client and firm assets across an array of custodians to reduce its exposure to the potential failure of any one institution. As of the date this document was written, we have obtained a comfort level with our banks and liquidity providers and will continue to assess the counterparty risk and diversify assets amongst multiple counterparties in the future. GAIN Capital utilizes the same counterparty review procedures when assessing counterparties for permitted transactions under CFTC Regulation 1.25

GAIN Capital solely invests client and firm assets in 1.25 eligible investments as defined by CFTC regulation. GAIN Capital considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of 90 days or less to be a cash or cash equivalent. As of June 30, 2026, client and firm assets were deposited in cash and cash equivalents (cash and money market funds) but can at its election deposit client and firm assets in US T-bills less than 90 days to Maturity as well as marketable securities (US T-bills greater than 90 Days to maturity), all of which would be available upon demand within 24 hours.

iv. A discussion of the material risks associated with the Forex Dealer Member acting as a counterparty to eligible contract participants (ECP) as defined in Section 1a(18) of the Act, including any risks created by the Forex Dealer Member's affiliates and other ECPs acting as dealers;

In general, we view the key risks associated with acting as counterparty to ECP clients consistent with the risks that exist for our retail client base. As of June 30, 2026, GAIN Capital does not act as counterparty to any affiliate ECP or non-affiliate ECP acting as dealer. If GAIN Capital elects to do business non-affiliate ECPs acting as dealer in the future, GAIN Capital requires ECPs to be regulated entities in the jurisdiction in which they operate. The key anticipated risks resulting from GAIN Capital's acting as counterparty to non-affiliate ECPs acting as a dealer are: 1) Debit/Deficit risk 2) Market making losses due to volatility 3) System performance/outage issues and 4) Manual input error.

v. GAIN Capital's quantitative and qualitative disclosures about market risk
